“I’m excited to be representing a progressive and innovative company. The synergy between Lab Crafters, my client base and myself is something I’ve been looking for. There were many factors involved in my decision to become a part of the Lab Crafters organization. They are: Direct to manufacturing business model, Made in the USA, Innovative product offering, Willingness to listen to the lab industry, Ownership committed to improvements and growth and most importantly, the People of the Lab Crafters’ family.” .....Denis Coons
